Glasgow, Scotland (25th September 2019): Arrow is delighted to announce that we have relocated our three Scottish businesses into spacious new premises in Scotland's largest Business Park, Hillington Park.

Following the acquisition of Abica, PCR IT and Siebert Telecoms, our next step has been to create a new flagship office for Arrow in Glasgow.

Arrow strongly believes that a modern and dynamic working environment contributes towards a truly engaged workforce. Our goal always being to further develop our high standards of customer service and support our customers with their own technological evolution.

The 4,720sq ft office has been thoughtfully refurbished with relaxation areas for staff, standing desks and break out areas to meet today's flexible working requirements.

Fifty staff members are now located in the Hillington Park office which includes Arrow's external IT and Telecom support departments, engineering, account management, billing and finance functions.

CEO, Chris Russell comments, 'The new office signals our commitment to become a leading force in the growing Scottish IT and Telecoms market. This is an opportunity for us to showcase Arrow's solutions, expand our customer base and, most importantly, provide local support to our existing Scottish customers'.
