

Independent, sustainable, natural skincare brand wins multiple awards!

Monday, 15 July 2019

We're thrilled to be able to share the news that Balmonds have been well and truly honoured at this year's Green Parent Natural Beauty Awards 2019 and the equally prestigious The Beauty Shortlist Mama & Baby Awards. Our best-selling Skin Salvation balm has also just been shortlisted by the Free From Skincare Awards.

It's a great achievement for us, a small independent business, to have won awards in so many categories with so many different products; in fact, nine different products have won awards, with two Balmonds products scooping wins in both lists. We're delighted that the Green Parent, The Beauty Shortlist and the Free From Awards' independent panels of experts have recognised the quality and effectiveness of our skincare.

NOTES FOR EDITORS:

- Balmonds was born out of radical necessity: nothing else worked, so founder Natalie Balmond did it herself!
- After trying several different creams on her toddler's eczema, Natalie found that they either didn't work, carried risks of side-effects, aggravated the condition or stung badly on application. So she made a safe, effective, non-stinging, non-steroidal emollient herself.
- Now an award-winning independent brand, Balmonds specialises in natural skincare for sensitive, dry, allergy- or eczema-prone skin.
- Balmonds skincare is aimed at anyone who wants to feel better in their skin.
- Balmonds highly-rated and trusted emollients are available on prescription (at doctors' discretion) for people who may be prone to eczema, dermatitis, psoriasis and other dry skin conditions.
- Balmonds products don't use petrochemicals, parabens, SLS, PEGs, perfumes or colours
- All Balmonds products are free from nuts, soya, coconut, gluten, lanolin and palm oil
- Balmonds are so confident that their products will make things better that customers are offered a

60-day money-back guarantee for all first time UK purchases

- Balmonds Skin Salvation contains hemp seed oil, which is incredibly rich in the essential fatty acids that eczema sufferers can often be deficient in, so it works long-term as a topical supplement for the skin. Something that paraffin-based emollients cannot do.
- Balmonds Skin Salvation is made with local beeswax, which forms a semi-occlusive protective barrier against allergens; this barrier allows skin to breathe, in contrast to paraffin emollients which are totally occlusive.
- Balmonds have been honoured by Green Parent Natural Beauty Awards 2019, and The Beauty Shortlist Mama & Baby Awards 2019, while our original Skin Salvation balm has been shortlisted in the Problem Skin category by the Free From Skincare Awards 2019.
