Buddha Bar Restaurant London never ceases to impress – winning an incredible Best Restaurant Bar third year in a row at the London Bar and Club Awards 2016 last night.

On Monday evening the managing director, Stefan Stefanov took his team to the London Bar and Club Awards at the Intercontinental Park Lane. For the third time, Buddha Bar Restaurant London didn't come home empty handed and took home the award once again!

This incredible achievement marks Buddha Bar Restaurant London as the number one spot to experience an evening of pure delight.

“Yui-Itsu” meaning unique in Japanese is the perfect way to describe Buddha Bar. The venue offers a complete exotic experience, blending truly mouth-watering Pan- Asian cuisine, mixology and world renowned music with absolutely spectacular interiors which creates a truly sensuous journey which brings the London dining scene to a whole new level.

Set over two floors, the elegant restaurant bar offers an awesome space to dine, drink and quite simply enjoy. The interior has redefined the mood and elegance with which much of London's restaurant sector has simply been unable to compete. Buddha Bar Restaurant London has paid an unprecedented amount of attention to the details found in its 450 capacity venue.

Buddha Bar Restaurant London is quite simply a must go in London, whether it be for the signature ‘1001 Arabian Nights’ with belly dancers, special menus and live music, or a fabulous relaxing dinner with friends or perhaps a private event : you will with undoubtedly enjoy the incredible experience, tastes and sounds which are Buddha Bar. Definitely a spot to check out!
