The successful Stone Bake Oven Company, who specialise in a range of wood fired pizza ovens, have split their product range between The Stone Bake Oven Company and Gozney Professional Ovens in order to meet their evolving customer requirements.

The Stone Bake Oven Company has gone from strength to strength since its establishment in 2009. With rapid expansion, increased staff numbers and a broad oven product range, the company is now recognised as the market leader within the UK stone oven sector. With the demand for stone hearth ovens (used predominantly for pizza cooking) on the increase, the Stone Bake Oven Company has adapted to the thriving market by developing a range of commercial pizza ovens (<http://www.gozneyovens.com/products/en/>), to include gas burning models, alongside their successful wood fired range.

This evolution has caused a polarisation in Stone Bake's customers, with one type of customer seeking a residential pizza oven (<https://www.thestonebakeovencompany.co.uk/our-ovens/>) for their home and garden, whilst the other requires a commercial grade of oven for their restaurant, pub or café.

In order to keep up with the ever increasing commercial demand, Managing Director Tom Gozney has formed a new company, Gozney Professional Ovens. Gozney Ovens offers tailored advice and support for commercial customers who are looking to purchase a commercial grade, high quality, stone oven. Most customers come to Gozney Ovens looking for a point of difference to bring to their new or existing business and the addition of 'stone baked' foods or a pizza menu has rapidly become a favourable and profitable option.

"Gozney Ovens provides one-on-one service and support for our commercial clientele," says Tom. "We provide the highest grade, most efficient stone hearth ovens on the UK market and most importantly, we make them ourselves, here in the UK." The splitting of the two companies means that 'for home' customers will get a customised home service from The Stone Bake Oven Company and commercial customers will obtain advice that is specific to their business from Gozney Ovens.

As the leaders of the stone hearth oven niche in the UK, The Stone Bake Oven Company and now, Gozney Ovens, have earned their place at the top with clients including Benugo, Franco Manca and Marstons Pubs & Taverns to name a few. Hands on experience with independent commercial customers and restaurant chains have enabled the Gozney Oven team to offer excellent support and advice to all their new and existing customers.
