After the latest forfeit stage for the Grand National 2010 (<http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk/>) 75 horses still remain. For those of us wishing to place our bets now, how do we narrow down the field for Grand National 2010 (http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk) ?

Grand National 2010 (http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk) was built to help us do just that!

The unique Grand National Winner predictor system has been developed over the last 20 years to predict the 2010 Grand National winner based on thousands of stats. The algorithm computes all the stats and facts and turns them into a rating. This system has produced several winners in recent years. Check out the site now to see which horse is top rated for 2010 (http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk)

Grand National Guide has its own blog where grand national enthusiasts discuss the race all year round! These guys have been trying to find the winner since the end of last years race! Take a look at their short lists and join in the discussion on the popular Grand National Blog (http://blog.grand-national-guide.co.uk)

For those wishing to produce their own shortlist there is a unique form analysis tool on Grand National Guide. Simply enter the details which you think are important in finding the grand national winner and the tool will leave you with a short list of those grand national horses (<http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk/grand-national-runners.php>) who meet your chosen trends.

Each of the Grand National Runners (<http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk/grand-national-runners.php>) has its own page so if you want to know all the facts about Big Fella Thanks (http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk/Big_Fella_Thanks.htm) or Mon Mome (http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk/Mon_Mome.htm) you can do in an easy to read format.

For those who don't want to go into so much detail, they can find a horse for their grand national betting (<http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk/grand-national-betting.php>) by using a lucky dip, choosing their favourite colour, number or finding a horse which lives near them! Or if you would rather not risk any money on the race, you can even print off a grand national sweepstake kit (<http://www.grand-national-guide.co.uk/grand-national-sweepstake-kit.php>).

Other recommended sites for Grand National info include Grand National World (http://www.grand-national-world.co.uk), Grand National Odds (http://www.grandnationalodds.co.uk) and Grand National 2010 (<http://www.grand-national.net>)
