Get the perfect Christmas gift for the golfer in your life... and help him get the 6 pack he didn't know you wanted!

The Extra 20 Yards®/<http://www.extra-yards.com> is an innovative golf product that will make both your Christmas wishes come true!

Edinburgh, Scotland. "Golfing widows" struggling to find the perfect gift for their man this Christmas should look no further than The Extra 20 Yards®. In just a few minutes every day he could improve his golf – meaning less time on the course – and get better muscles, in all the right places. Not only will he love the christmas gift, you'll love the results...!

Many other sports have equipment designed for training needs such as exercise bikes, rowing machines and treadmills. Now, for the first time ever, an exercise machine has been designed specifically for golfers. The Extra 20 Yards® has been carefully designed to specifically increase strength in the correct muscles for golf and subsequently improve the speed and power with which players hit the ball.

The Extra 20 Yards®/<http://www.extra-yards.com> is very compact, taking up very little room and can be easily installed inside or outside the home The golfer simply practices their normal swing against the resistance of the weights to increase core muscle strength.

Several of golf's leading professionals endorse this product. Simon Yates (7th in all time career earnings on the Asian PGA Tour) describes it as "ideal for the keen golfer. It works all the muscles in a golf swing and you don't have to spend lots of time in the gym" Kevin Craggs, a Top 25 UK Golf Monthly Coach agrees, "If you want to get distance and power into your game, what a perfect device."

Time is precious, so if you want to spend more of it with a leaner version of the golfer in your life and help him improve his performance – on and off the fairways – at just £219 (+VAT and P&P) The Extra 20 Yards® is the perfect Christmas gift for you both.

To see it in action, log on to <http://www.extra-yards.com> where Simon Yates demonstrates in a video how to gain The Extra 20 Yards®.
