

Radtac Certified Scaled Agilist: Leading SAFe Course

Submitted by: Radtac Ltd

Thursday, 27 February 2014

Radtac is proud to announce the further expansion of its Certified Agile Training Portfolio in 2014.

Radtac now have 2 certified SAFe (Scaled Agile Framework) Program Consultants, Darren Wilmshurst and Randal Cooper. They have demonstrated a proven knowledge in agile programs, program portfolio management, agile architecture, and leadership. As a consequence, they are now able to train leaders and teams, act as a certifying agent for SAFe Agilists and SAFe practitioners, and launch Agile Release Trains as part of an enterprise Lean/Agile change initiative.

Peter Measey, CEO of Radtac says “Radtac first worked with the earliest evolutions of SAFe within Nokia in 2008. Radtac are one of the very few companies who specialise in scaled agile and have been implementing scaled agile globally within medium to very large organisations since 1998. We look forward to evolving and strengthening our relationship with SAFe over the coming years”

The first SAFe Course has been scheduled for 01-02 April 2014 in London. For a limited time only Radtac will be offering this course at an introductory offer price of £500 + VAT. To check offer availability please contact the team on 0203 638 5040 or training@radtac.co.uk quoting SourceWireSAFe
