Radtac Joins UK Government's G-Cloud 6 Framework

London, UK - 02 February 2015, Radtac Ltd, the UK's #1 provider of Agile Training, Agile Consulting, Culture and Talent resourcing is pleased to announce they have been accepted as a supplier for the Government's latest G-Cloud framework, G Cloud 6. Public sector organisations will continue to have unlimited access to Radtac's expertise in delivering digital business transformation solutions, as well as Training Courses with approaches to Agile, Kanban and Lean Thinking and finally including Prince2 from March 2015.

The G-Cloud framework, is a pre-approved list of suppliers that offer cloud, other digital services via an online portal. The new G Cloud6 format is the result of government's commitment to making it easier for suppliers to sell their services and it is, better for buyers and better for suppliers (<https://digitalmarketplace.blog.gov.uk/2014/12/05/g-cloud-6-better-for-buyers/>)

The UK Gov's Digital Marketplace still maintains its initial scope - which was to make faster and more simple, the process of cloud based IT procurement. Hence, central government, local government, health and education administration, defence services, NPOs and emergency services can take advantage of faster, easier access to innovative Agile IT solutions and products straight from their suppliers.

"We are delighted to maintain our status as G Cloud suppliers for the UK Government's Digital Marketplace. It offers Radtac an excellent opportunity to support and promote Agile practices within their digital remits," says Peter Measey, Radtac CEO.
