The leading conference for pan-African telecoms investment announced that it is returning to London this summer with a new extended programme and venue to meet huge global interest in the region.

TMT Finance and Investment Africa 2013 [<http://www.tmtfinance.com/africa/>] (www.tmtfinance.com/africa), now in its fourth year, will take place at the Grand Connaught Rooms, Covent Garden on June 20. The conference brings together African telecom CEOs, CFOs and strategy heads with investment bankers, financiers, regulators and advisers, to assess investment opportunities and partnerships.

“Africa’s telecom sector is entering a critical period as it looks to meet enormous demand for new infrastructure and services across the region,” said Dominic Lowndes, Managing Director, TMT Finance, the event organisers. “A huge amount of investment capital is required and operators, stakeholder, financiers and advisers need to work together to establish new partnerships and business models to ensure sustainable roll out.”

The conference agenda for 2013 will feature a series of leadership panel discussions, keynote speeches and networking sessions designed to facilitate knowledge exchange and new partnerships between key financial decision-makers from African telecoms and the international finance and advisory community.

Key session themes include:

- Telecom Leadership Round Table – Strategies for sustainable growth
- Mobile Infrastructure – The race for Africa’s tower industry
- Policy and Regulation – Frameworks for stimulating investment
- The M&A Panel – Consolidation, restructuring, pricing and execution
- Next Generation Networks – Spectrum, licences, 4G rollout and fibre
- CFO Round Table - Establishing paths to profitable growth
- Raising Finance – Public and private, debt and equity funding
- Sustainable Investment - Corporate governance and risk.
- Investing in new technologies and services - From mobile money to m-health
