Docklands, London, June 11th 2018 - Telappliant, a cloud business communications provider, with 15 years' experience in delivering solutions to UK SMEs, announced today that it has acquired Orbtalk, a UK-based hosted telephony provider.

"We are delighted to welcome Orbtalk and their skilled team into Telappliant", commented Muhammad Nasim, Managing Director of Telappliant, "It is a great business and the combined organisation helps us to deepen our focus on UK SMEs, as well as positioning us for the continued execution of our growth strategy."

"We have known Telappliant for a long time and are pleased to hand over Orbtalk to a company which we are confident can continue to build on our successes", said Brian Rainey, Orbtalk Director, "The combined capabilities of the two companies will mean a strong, highly compelling product portfolio for our client base."

"The purchase of Orbtalk will enable us to build on the existing southern England business and expand upon the talented skillset and unique intellectual property that Orbtalk has built up over the years", commented Tan Aksoy, Director of M&A at Telappliant.

Telappliant is keen to continue building on Orbtalk's successes as leader in global IP telephony solutions and unique market propositions. Its Userve™ customer portal provides a full end-to-end customer journey, enabling business prospects to progress from an online enquiry to a live hosted telephony service within a matter of minutes. In terms of its telephony network, Orbtalk has multiple points of global presence, enabling its international clients to benefit from features such as local calling and lower in-country call rates.

Both businesses are award-winning providers and together will offer a broad and compelling set of solutions to their consolidated client base of more than 5000 SME customers.
